SACRED HEART SCHOOL

We chose to send our two sons to Sacred Heart School because we wanted a small-scale environment with large-scale vision and quality. We were not disappointed.

We initially chose Sacred Heart for its foundation built on Christian education and small classes, but we soon came to value the family atmosphere, rigorous academic offerings and the stellar faculty and staff. The heart of SHS is its people who not only taught our children, but cared for them and were invested in their success.

Our sons were well-prepared for college, and both attribute their academic work ethics and time management skills to the education and preparation they received at SHS.

For us, the family that was created during our time as Gremlin parents still endures, and we wholeheartedly recommend SHS.
